County Educational Day Exercises Are Held at Coliseum in City Park This Afternoon.

REV. A. W. JAMIESON SPEAKS

Tells Graduates Most Distasteful School Work is Past, But Greater Problems Will Come

Although the day was hot, many people were attracted to Rushville today for the annual county educational day exercises which were held this afternoon in the coliseum at the city park. The class address was delivered by the Rev. A. W. Jamieson, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, on the subject, "Making Men."

The graduates formed in line at the court house shortly after one o'clock and marched to the coliseum. Wagoner's orchestra furnished the music for the occasion. The Rev. A. D. Batchelor of the St. Paul's M. E. church pronounced the invocation.

One hundred and thirty-five pupils were awarded diplomas which signified they had completed the eight years' course in the Rush county schools. A gold medal was awarded to Zella Hungerford of Orange township for a perfect attendance record. She has never been absent or tardy. Miss Edna Gibson, a pupil at school No. 9 in Rushville township, won the distinction this year of having the highest grade in the county for the year. Her grade was 97.1 per cent.

"Every community has its undesirable; any boy can become one if others neglect and he neglects himself," said the Rev. Mr. Jamieson in the course of his address. "Every community has its highly respected and self-respecting men. Any boy is the material out of which a man can become such a man, if he will. A babe in the cradle is not a man; he can be made. The public school does not furnish the entire process for making even a six year old boy and turning out the finished product for American citizenship."

"The home, the companionship, the moral instruction have their important missions to fulfil; but the school is a factor, a large factor, an essential factor in the making of men. There are not many great men. We are told, that some are born great; some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them. All told, the number is not large. But there are multitudes of men who have the elements of greatness in their own sphere. They are men of intelligence; men of happy homes; men of moral character and helpful influence. Every such man has improved his opportunities for an education."

"The glory of young men is their strength. One great need for a successful life is a strong body. Education helps the developing man to know his body and take care of it. For success in life, we need trained minds. Some men succeeded in becoming scholars without schools. Generations ago, men crossed the ocean in frail sail boats. Today, no man would take passage in a sail boat. When he might go in a moving palace of modern construction."

"Today, no man tries to get an education without the school room drill, and school advantages. Not to go to school means to live in ignorance; to make the best of school opportunities means to live in intelligence. The home, the church, the state, call for men who develop the best that there is in them. The

INSPECT CEMENT STREETS

Shelbyville City Council and Cement Dealers Here Today.

The members of the Shelbyville city council together with a number of cement dealers were in the city this morning to inspect the concrete streets recently completed. Shelbyville has some paving contracts to let and the council is undetermined as to the kind of material to use. The trip of inspection was made under the auspices of the cement dealers, who are desirous of putting in some cement streets there. The Shelbyville delegation went from here to Connersville to see the concrete streets there.

AUTO COLLIDES WITH MAIL WAGON

Frank Redman's Vehicle is Upset This Morning and He is Thrown Out, But Not Hurt.

JESSE KIRKPATRICK'S AUTO

An automobile driven by Jesse Kirkpatrick, living at the corner of Willow and Ninth streets, collided with a road wagon in which Frank Redman, rural mail carrier on route No. 11, rode, at the corner of Main and Second streets shortly after six-thirty o'clock this morning and upset the wagon. Mr. Redman was thrown out but he was not hurt. Three of the rubber tires rolled off the road wagon when it was upset. Mr. Kirkpatrick was unhurt.

Mr. Redman had just left the post-office and was looking down distributing his mail. He was driving south behind two farm wagons and had pulled out to go around them. Mr. Kirkpatrick was driving north and intended to give the mail wagon plenty of room. The accident was said to be unavoidable by those who witnessed it.

LAST OF WALKER CLAIMS REMOVED

Papers Withdrawn in Which John LeSueur of Jersey Isle Filed in Court Here.

RECEIVER NOT DISMISSED

The last of the claims against A. P. Walker was taken from the docket in the circuit court yesterday afternoon. It was the claim of John LeSueur, a cattle buyer of Jersey Isle. The claim was for 526 pounds and 12 shillings. The court granted permission to withdraw all papers in the case and this dismissed the action. Le Sueur alleged that Walker owed him for some cattle and the receiver refused to grant the claim and it was placed on the court docket to be heard by Judge Megee.

There is only one case on the docket involving Walker and that is the receivership case of Washington Tyler against Walker in which Charles A. Frazee was appointed receiver. It is expected that the receiver will be discharged in a few days and the case dismissed.

A marriage license was issued this afternoon to Frank McColley and Thresa Headlee.

BIG CROWD FOR BIG WEDNESDAY

Many People Come to Rushville to Take Advantage of Bargains Offered by Merchants.

MANY ENJOY THE FREE SHOWS

More Farmers Than Expected For-sake the Fields and Hundreds of Women Come to City.

Rain this afternoon threatened to add a discordant note to Rushville's first Big Wednesday of 1914, but many hundreds of people came to Rushville regardless of the hot sun or the threatening clouds.

Merchants this afternoon reported excellent business due to the first bargain day of the season. Educational day brought many people to the city, but many came solely because of the Big Wednesday bargains, as was attested by the crowds which filled many of the stores this afternoon and took advantage of the free motion picture shows.

After the crowd had gone to the coliseum this afternoon for the educational day program, many people were at all motion picture shows, which were being run free to the public until six o'clock. The free shows were arranged for by the merchants who contributed to make Big Wednesday possible.

The Arlington band was engaged to give a concert this afternoon and tonight. A band stand was erected at the northwest corner of the court house lawn. A much larger crowd was expected for the band concert tonight, if the rain did not interfere.

Several merchants were interviewed this afternoon, and they all agreed that Big Wednesday had contributed much to bring the crowd to the city and that many hundreds of people were taking advantages of the special bargains which practically every merchant offered.

The crowd consisted for the most of women and children, although it was generally conceded that there were more men in Rushville today than it was believed would come. Farmers are very busy with their farm work and it was not anticipated that many of them would leave the fields to come to Rushville when their wives could do the buying.

IF HUERTA FLEES HE WILL BE KILLED

This is Word Refugees From Mexico City Bring to Vera Cruz When They Arrive Today.

THEY BARELY ESCAPE DEATH

(By William G. Shepherd.)
(By U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Vera Cruz, June 10.—Passengers arriving today from Mexico City said that if Huerta should attempt to flee the city it would mean suicide because the Rebels has planted dynamite on every railroad track. They said Huerta told them: "Look out for bombs," when he bade personal friends good-bye. They said that forty miles from the city they were miraculously saved from dynamite bombs planted by the Rebels.

STORM GOES AROUND CITY

Very Light Rain Brings Little Relief From Heat Wave That Has Held County in Grip.

HEAVY RAIN SOUTH OF HERE

Big Display of Lightning and Heavy Claps of Thunder Fail to Bring Desired Results.

A thunder storm this afternoon promised relief from the heat wave that has held Rush county in its grip for four days, but late in the day there had been very little change in the temperature.

The mercury ascended within a degree of the hundred mark during the middle of the day. Early in the afternoon the humidity in the air made it almost intolerable, but about two-thirty o'clock the lightning cooled the air considerably and the mercury dropped to ninety degrees within a half hour.

The thunder storm and rain that was impending, however, went to the south of Rushville and was threatening to retrace its steps and give Rushville a drenching before the day had passed. A heavy rain and a severe lightning and thunder storm, was reported in the southern part of the county late this afternoon, but there was no damage from electricity so far as could be learned.

After three o'clock the storm was still threatening, but what little rain that had fallen had brought only small relief from the intense heat. The mercury, after dropping to ninety degrees, began to mount again. Local weather prophets were inclined to believe that the rain which passed to the south of Rushville would not return.

Dispatches this afternoon told of lower temperature in the middlewest. A cool breeze brought relief in Chicago and there was a big drop in the temperature in Indianapolis.

NO IMMEDIATE RELIEF IS FELT

Many Deaths and Prostrations in Unprecedented Heat Wave Scorching Middlewest.

ELEVEN DIE IN CHICAGO ALONE

(By United Press.)

Chicago, June 10.—Scorched for the fourth consecutive day the middlewest states today felt no immediate relief from an unprecedented heat wave that has caused more than a score of deaths and many prostrations.

Springfield, Ill., was today designated as the hottest city in the United States. The mercury has reached the 100 mark there. Nashville registered 98, Louisville 96, Chicago 95, St. Louis 98, and Indianapolis 86 at nine o'clock this morning.

Eleven deaths from heat have occurred in Chicago alone. There have been eight deaths in Pittsburg.

COOLING BREEZE.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, June 10.—A cooling breeze coming down from the north brought relief this afternoon and brought the mercury down to 78 degrees.

HAS PRELIMINARY HEARING

Resulted in William Poe Being Bound Over to Circuit Court.

William Poe, who was arrested here last Thursday and returned to Shelbyville where his wife had preferred a charge of non-support, was given a preliminary hearing yesterday in Squire Webb's court in Shelbyville. Poe pleaded not guilty but was found guilty by the court. He was bound over to the circuit court and his bond placed at $200. The evidence showed that he had not offered to support his wife or children since April 11. Poe was unable to give bond and went back to jail to await trial.

HEARING MAY BE HELD IN THIS CITY

Effort Being Made to Have Public Service Commission Come Here For Gas Case.

WAS TO HAVE BEEN TODAY

The hearing of the petitions of the Peoples Natural Gas company and the Central Fuel company asking permission to raise their gas rates, which was to have been today before the public service commission, was postponed at the request of the city. It was pointed out that the commission had not given the people here sufficient time in which to prepare their fight against the proposed raise.

City attorney John H. Kiplinger is making an effort to get the commission to hold the hearing in this city as was done at Evansville. The citizens here are all interested in the question and in order that as many as possible appear before the commission, it was thought best to ask that the hearing be held in Pushville. The commission has not yet decided this question.

Petitions against the proposed increase in rates have been circulated freely among the consumers and many have signed the papers.

CASE OF SMALLPOX FOUND AT MILROY

Peter Poole is Found to be Suffering With Disease, County Health Officer Smith Learns.

NO DANGER OF AN EPIDEMIC

Peter Poole, a well known young man of Milroy, has a well developed case of smallpox, according to the attending physician and county health officer, Dr. Will C. Smith. The case has been reported to Dr. Smith and Poole has been placed under quarantine.

Vrey little is thought of the case in Milroy as very few have been exposed and every precaution has been taken to prevent a spread of the disease. Every one who has been exposed to the disease has been vaccinated. The Poole home is under quarantine. It is not known where he contracted the disease.

ASKS PERKINS TO LEAVE PARTY

In Open Letter to Roosevelt and Others Amos Pinchot Demands Trust Magnate Quit.

IS DETRIMENTAL TO PARTY

Says Perkins Heads Element Which Favors the Protection of Private Monopoly.

(By United Press.)

New York, June 10.—Amos Pinchot, member of the national Progressive executive committee, today made public a four thousand word letter in which he demanded that George W. Perkins, chairman of the committee, withdraw absolutely from direction of the affairs of the committee "for the good of the party."

Pinchot's letter was sent to Senator Dixon and the members of the national Progressive committee, to Col. Roosevelt and to Perkins on May 23. Perkins has not replied.

At his office today it was said he was out of town and could not be reached. At his home it was declared he left early today. The first paragraph of Pinchot's letter read as follows:

"A suggestion exists within the Progressive party which must be terminated before it can command the attention of the voters.

"The situation I refer to is this: an element in our leadership headed by George W. Perkins favors the protection of private monopoly in American industry and since the party's formation active steps have been taken to commit the party to that policy."

VIOLENCE IS FEARED TODAY

Westinghouse Company Places 200 Guards at Works.

(By United Press.)

Pittsburg, Pa., June 10.—Violence was feared at the Westinghouse plant this afternoon following the action of officials in putting to work 200 guards. This was done although the union had waived its demands for recognition. This act probably ended all probability of success.

Business Is As Good As We Make It

The head of a great national industry—a veritable live wire—remarked recently that he could have a panic in his business any time he wanted it.

All he had to do was to let up driving and begin to talk hard times.

But instead of doing this, he increases his advertising when things look squally and drives his salesmen harder.

And good times or bad, there has never been a year that his business has failed to go ahead and yield a handsome profit.

This man incidentally practically does all his advertising in the local newspapers, figuring wisely that by making sales for the distributors of his goods, he is paving the way for his own salesmen to get more orders.

GOVERNMENT TO COUNT ALL BIRDS

This Kind of Census is Latest Idea of Department of Agriculture—to Have Agents

POOR PAY IN CANADIAN WHEAT

For This Reason Many Farmers Who Migrated There are Returning to the United States

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 10.—A bird census of the United States is the latest suggestion from the United States Department of Agriculture. The counting should begin this month and every bird lover throughout the country is invited to assist.

In the announcement the Department says: "The object is to determine how many pairs of birds of each species breed within areas. By comparing these figures with those of subsequent censuses it will be possible to ascertain whether the present state and federal laws are effective and game and insectivorous birds increasing or diminishing in numbers. Voluntary observers are relied upon to furnish most of the desired data to the department."

The first step of the department was to ask 250 of its correspondents to act as census agents in different localities. They will select their trained observers and, following an outline of information furnished by the Department, will take the census.

Correspondents will be asked to select fairly representative territory in their localities and to note, among other things the kinds of and pairs of birds actually nesting within a restricted plot. And the census takers are warned not to include birds which come into that territory simply for breeding purposes.

Each correspondent is asked to go out early in the morning to count the male birds—for that is the hour they do most of their singing. Suffrage is to bear no part in the bird counting, however, for the Department has decided that after migration is over and the birds are settled in their summer quarters "it is safe to consider that each male represents a breeding pair."

Reasons for the return of many American farmers who migrated to Canada, attracted by the big wheat crops possible there, are found in a report of a commission appointed by the province of Saskatchewan. The cost of growing wheat in that province during the last year was found to be 55 cents a bushel, or 62 cents f. o. b. at country points. This leaves a mighty slim margin, according to the Department of Agriculture, for farmers to gain a profit.

The long, rigorous winters have also proven too much for Americans in many instances and numbers are asking for certificates which will

This Kidney Remedy A Great Healer

For a number of years I was troubled with my kidneys, condition so serious that part of the time I was unable to work. Tried several remedies, also different physicians without relief. A sample of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root was left at my house. I commenced to take it and continued it until I had taken several bottles and am now cured. Am sixty-two years of age and am able to work every day. I attribute my cure to the use of your Swamp-Root.

My wife also was cured by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. Symptoms were very serious, including hemorrhages, great pain and distress. I commenced giving her Swamp-Root and it was just as healing in her case. We can heartily recommend your Swamp-Root to all kidney sufferers.

Very truly yours,

H. C. GRIFFITH,

Subscribed and sworn to before me, a Notary Public, this 8th day of April, 1912.

permit the return to the United States of their household effects.

The cost of producing wheat in Saskatchewan, the Canadian provincial commission found, has increased over 12 per cent since 1909, and the price has decreased since that time from 81½ cents a bushel to 66½ cents in 1913, leaving the farmer a profit of only 4½ cents a bushel.

Percheron are the favorite breeding horses imported by American breeders, according to recently gathered statistics just made public by the Department of Agriculture. Next in favor for importation are Belgian horses, with Clydesdale "also ran."

In 1913 882 Percheron stallions and 600 mares were imported. Of Belgians, 621 stallions and 362 mares were brought across the water to this country, while only 45 Clydesdale stallions and 29 mares were imported last year, while 128 Shire stallions and 57 Shire mares were brought in. The total importations for the year of high bred horses were 1,733 stallions, including ponies, and 1,264 mares.

"Udo" is the name of a new Japanese vegetable imported by the Department of Agriculture. It is especially adapted to Maryland, where extensive experiments have been made with the vegetable, and all parts of New England as well as Atlantic Coast States as far south as the Carolinas.

A very interesting and valuable booklet, illustrated, on the Angora goat, with hints to raisers or prospective breeders, has recently been issued by the Department of Agriculture.

THREE MILLION ROSES ARE USED

Floral Parade is Held This Afternoon in Connection With Portland Annual Rose Festival.

FIRE FIGHTING EXHIBITION

(By United Press.)

Portland, Oregon., June 10.—It was estimated that more than 3,000,000 cut roses were used in the decorations of the floral parade held here this afternoon in connection with the annual Rose Festival.

The parade consisted of hundreds of the smartest pure bred horses, owned by members of Northwestern City Hunt Clubs, supplemented by nearly 1,000 handsomely bedecked motor vehicles, both pleasure and commercial.

Tonight's fire drill and life saving exhibition is to be one of the features of the week. An eight story factory building, saturated with chemicals will be theoretically destroyed and the entire city fire department will be called out to rescue three hundred persons who have volunteered to fill the various floors of the structure to demonstrate the different types of modern fire fighting machinery and life saving apparatus.

We Are Still Selling Buggies....

and have every style buggy known to the best vehicle builders in the country. We have large, roomy buggies that are low down and easy to get in and out of and then we have them for the young folks (we don't mean baby carriages) and middle aged people. In fact, we have buggies to meet every requirement of all kinds of buggy users. There is no use for us to tell you of their quality, perhaps you have already found that out by using one, or if not you can ask your neighbor and he will tell you how they wear. You take no chances when you buy from us because we guarantee every buggy we sell and guarantee it an honest one, and one that is always good. We believe that an honest guarantee gives us the good will of our customers and when a merchant loses the good will of his customers he is flirting with the commercial undertaker. Let us fit you out with your next buggy and you will always be glad you did it.

ALUM in FOOD

The alum baking powder manufacturers deny with great emphasis that food made with their baking powder contains alum.

Do they not know or are they trying to mislead consumers?

The facts as developed by the most eminent chemists and physiologists prove that their statements are incorrect.

Dr. Mallet, of the University of Virginia, a scientist of the highest reputation, after a series of investigations, reported:

"I purchased in the open market a number of samples of baking powders in which alum is an ingredient; have had bread made with them in the usual way and according to the directions printed on the packages. Experimenting with twelve different powders in some of which the alum alone was used, and in others alum and acid phosphate, I have in every case found aluminum (alum) present in the bread and recoverable therefrom."

Examine the ingredient clause upon the back label of the can and you will learn which are alum powders.

The Difference

Royal Baking Powder is made from pure cream of tartar and contains no alum, lime phosphate or albumen.

An Elixir of Life.

"An annuity is the best elixir of life I know of," said the examining physician of an insurance company. "It sometimes seems as if annuitants never die. We have lots on our books who top eighty, ninety and even ninety-five years. I have passed many a sickly and decrepit old fellow as a good annuity risk—the sicker they are, you know, the better risk they make—and the next year he has turned up to collect his annuity rejuvenated, rosy, spry as a boy. The secret? The secret is that financial worry, fear of the poorhouse, ages and kills off more people than all the deadly diseases combined. Release an old man by means of an annuity from all this worry, and he throws off his years and walks erect and happy and fearlessly young."

Shakespeare's Birth.

The exact date of Shakespeare's birth is not known, and the accepted date of April 23 is based on circumstantial evidence. There is record evidence that he was baptized on April 26, 1564, but no record evidence of the date of his birth. He died April 23, 1616, and the inscription upon his monument is evidence that he had already begun his fifty-third year, but does not give any birth date. From these data and other such information as they could obtain, antiquaries in the eighteenth century, 100 years after his death, fixed the date of his birth as April 23, 1564, three days before his baptism. Though not proved beyond doubt, that date is universally accepted.—Philadelphia Press.

Public Playgrounds

It will be impossible for Rushville to withstand a second agitation for a public playground. Rushville will have to bow to the inevitable. The women of Rushville generally get what they want—and it appears that they want a public playground. The sentiment among women whose children would be benefited by such an institution has been canvassed by persons interested and they are unanimous in favor of the plan.

A meeting of women will be held in the library in the court house next Monday afternoon and the women of the city, regardless of whether they are directly interested, are invited to attend. From the interest that has already been shown, there will be a crowd of women who will crystallize some sort of a method to get what they want.

The city park offers an ideal location for playgrounds. The advantage of a public playground are too well known and have been too often presented in these columns to argue them further. It is sufficient to note that the women of the city favor the project and will see it through to the end.

Other cities have worked out public playground plans and have always found them most satisfactory. There is a great demand right now in Lebanon for public playgrounds and it appears that the community will meet it. Seymour has plans well under way to establish a playground in the city park there, Seymour, as Rushville, has a city park that is lying idle. The city council will spent a considerable sum in improving it this summer and the improvements will include a playground.

In Lebanon the boys have taken the matter of agitating the playground question into their own hands. A number of the lads carrying large banners with inscriptions some of which read "We want a playground," "Lebanon UP to date?" "Where's the kids' playgrounds?" and the like paraded the city streets.

The parade was merely to get the organization of the boys before the public. The boys have banded together and while their organization is not complete, it will be perfected in the near future. Its purpose is to agitate the playground question and to get every business man, woman and members of the city council behind the movement. Several names have been suggested for the new organization, but under what name the boys will go has not been determined.

One of the business men said, that he was a hearty supporter of the movement mainly because the playgrounds would keep the young boys off the city streets. "In fact," he said, "I have had parents come to me and offer me the services of their boys free if I would give them employment in my store, and in this manner keep them off the city streets."

The organization will petition the city council and intends to secure signers to a petition from the Lebanon residents.

Those who have seen fit to stay with the Republican party and those who have seen fit to return to it will undoubtedly disagree with that eminent statesman, ex-Senator Albert Jeremiah Beveridge, who said in the course of an address at Bloomington yesterday: "Last fall we got most of the best half of the Republican party and some of the best half of the Democratic party and in the coming campaign we are going to get all of the best half of the Republican party and most of the best half of the Democratic party."

Democrats and Republicans alike may now make a little mental note that they are the riff raff, in the opinion of Mr. Beveridge, which doesn't go very far in Indiana. The maxim, "A prophet is without honor in his own country," is a good rule when it fits.

Editorialettes

"Most of these fellows who are riding around here in automobiles haven't got a dollar," we heard a man remark on the street corner yesterday. Now, for our own part, we haven't that sour grapes feeling. We've always felt that when they began selling them on the installment plan, we, with less than a dollar less than nothing, would get one.

"Automobiles," says Doc McVey, of Coons Corner, "are bound to go through the same process as bicycles. I remember when folks down our way used to mortgage their place to buy a high wheeler. I turned green with envy when one of our neighbor boy's pa bought him one. It was green and trimmed in red. I worked all the next summer and saved my Sunday excursion money to get a wheel. When I did get one, I was just like these people that own autos now—I couldn't buy graphite for the chain and pay for punctures. But, sure as you're born, automobiles will be sellin' a dollar down and a dollar a week before you know. The fellows who will mortgage their property to get a little joy riding are going to run out some day and then Henry Ford whose payin' five a day for common labor, and some more of these manufacturers, will have to sell on the installment plan."

What has become of the old-fashioned woman who couldn't go to the movies because of the baby?

Do not lie children, or, if you must lie, don't waste your talent. Specialize, and you may get to be a corporation lawyer.

Our friends, the enemy, say that the recent Democratic county convention was a Taggart convention, and that if it was, "give us a little more of the same." Honest confession, you know, kid is mighty good for the soul. And it is open to argument, anyway whether a Democrat will ever get to heaven.

A Night in Kokomo

Bub Geraghty and Louis Hiner, better known to the North Main street campers as "Spider," having an unquenchable desire (and a substantial bank account (to see a ball game, interurbaned most of the way to Detroit to see the Tigers and Athletics play. But, sad to chronicle, they went by the way of Kokomo. On the return trip, they arrived in Kokomo about 3 p. m. before the moon had gone down. Having wasted most of their herebefore mentioned bank account in riotous living, they did not feel like letting loose of a slick dollar for a bed, so they did like any other Hoosier would have done, looked up the court house and sat down on the steps. There strolled by at 4 p. m. on his only round of the night a starlight cop. He wanted to know what a couple of bums were doing at that hour. Under his breath he wondered how they ever happened to come to Kokomo. "Spider" Hiner, regaining his tongue power gradually, explained. Rushville, well, well! Why that cop was born in Rushville. His name is Joe Amos. We're strong for Joe because he came from Rushville, but the place he ended up in! (Business of holding your nose.)

(San Francisco Examiner) A school has been founded in Indiana to teach politics to the natives.—News Item.

No wonder Fairbanks almost smiles; no wonder Harry New

Is making observations of a bright cerulean hue.

No wonder big Jim Watson grunts in shuddering surprise, And Thomas Riley Marshall says: "Can I believe my eyes?"

No wonder A. J. Beveridge is reaching round for bricks; For some professor's going to teach the Hoosiers politics.

In Indiana, where a babe before he learns to walk

Can juggle a convention deal, or give a cart-tail talk!

Where ballot boxes take the place of common children's toys.

And roorbacks flow like music from the mouths of little boys;

Where tiny future statesmen stand beside their mothers' knees

And learn election districts like YOU learned your A B C's.

I've heard of teaching lunks to swim, of teaching dogs to bark,

Of giving singing lessons to the joyous meadow lark,

Of teaching gunmen how to shoot and Scotchmen how to save,

Of teaching crocodiles to bite and maniacs to rave.

These things all savor more or less of supererogation,

But teaching Hoosiers politics! THAT AIN'T NO OCCUPATION!

MILLER SIGNS TO PLAY HERE

Will Alternate Behind Bat With Mattern and Play in Outfield—
Maroons Here Sunday.

INFIELD IS ALSO CHANGED

Manager Fisher is on Trial of Laddy Link and Makes Him a Good Proposition.

Manager Fisher, of the Arcadians has about decided on the changes to be made in the Rushville team for the game Sunday, when the fast Cincinnati Maroons come here for a game. Carl Mattern, who has been doing the catching for the Rushville team the past two seasons will be retained.

The catching department will be strengthened by the addition of Carl Miller, formerly of the Indianapolis Reserves. Miller will work in the outfield and relieve Mattern anytime he goes bad. Manager Fisher is confident that this should prove an improvement in the team. Mattern is well liked here and is a good catcher. The only trouble with Mattern is that he has one bad knee and is liable to be put out of the game anytime. Miller is said to be a slugger and this if nothing else should help the team.

In the game Sunday with the Maroons Bridges will play first base. Quieser, second, Spellman short and Johannes third. Quieser is an infielder and the fans liked his work last Sunday. He can also hit the ball and Manager Fisher believes the Arcadians look the best they have this year.

With Miller, Tompkins and Pierce in the outfield and the infield strengthened Manager Fisher can see no reason why the team should not win games. The pitching department is still causing him a little trouble. He has made Laddy Link a good offer and it is believed that he will accept. If Link comes to terms with the local management he will pitch the game Sunday. The fans were naturally sore over the result of Sunday's game but Fisher is determined to make amends and will do everything he can to give them a winner. He expected to hear definitely regarding Link by tonight.

The Maroons, the attraction Sunday, is considered one of the best teams out of Cincinnati. Manager Fisher has been notified that the management of the team will start Harry Veddern in the box. Veddern, it will be remembered finished the season last year with Rushville and his former team mates will have to step some to beat him this year as he has been going good. The game Sunday will be called at two-thirty o'clock.

BOXERS OF TODAY LACK REAL CLASS

McFarland Only Equal of Old Timers, Says Frank Erne.

PUBLIC IS UNAPPRECIATIVE.

Fight Fans Think Scrapper Is Stalling When He Uses His Brains—Short, No Decision Bouts to Blame For Decadence of the Game, Says Former Champion.

When Frank Erne was champion lightweight he was known as the most brainy gloveman of his time, and Erne flourished when great lightweights were plentiful. Therefore, when he speaks of boxing, what he says has weight and is decidedly interesting as well. Erne was discussing the Gibbons-Howard bout and incidentally commented on the boxing situation in general.

"I see that they said Gibbons was stalling," remarked Erne. "It didn't appear that way to me. Gibbons is a student of boxing. He is no wild slugger. I think that those who criticised his tactics were decidedly wrong. He merely used good generalship in changing the pace from time to time. But generalship is no longer understood, it seems to me.

"It is probably because of that fact that there are few good boxers at present. When one of them does something really clever it is usually misunderstood. Just as Gibbons was misunderstood when he tried to make Howard open up instead of attempting to beat him down by main strength."

"How does Gibbons compare with the middleweights of your time?"

"Well, he's a good man, a very good man, but I wouldn't say that he could have held his own with Tommy Ryan and Kid McCoy. They were more seasoned. They had too much experience.

"I'll tell you why the old timers were better than the present set. In our time we fought twenty and twenty-five rounds, and you have to be a general to box over ten. We used to think nothing of the first ten. It was along about the fifteenth that the strain began to tell. Then headwork counted and the man with brains came to the front.

"You don't have to think to box ten rounds. We would have thought that a joke. But twenty-five is a different thing. The last five rounds were torture. The mental strain was terrific as well as the muscular effort. When you are tired and exhausted it is much harder, as well as more necessary, to think and plan. That's why the long fights made good generals of us.

"Packey McFarland is the peer of all boxers in the ring today, principally because he understands feinting. His feinting is remarkable. Feinting is the real art of boxing. Why, in our day we never took an opening that was given us. We thought it a trap. We only took advantage of the openings that we made for ourselves by our feinting. There were real hitters in those days, and one mistake was usually fatal.

"Yes, boxing was decidedly different in those days. For one thing, there was more at stake. As a rule the purse was cut two-thirds to the winner and one-third to the loser, and that made the strain much greater.

"Another difference was the way we trained. Some of the lightweights of my time were almost as big as the middleweights of today, yet they made the weight by a long course of special preparation. For instance, weeks before a bout we would go out into the country where we had plenty of fresh air. Every morning we would do ten or twelve miles on the road, and that brought down the weight. We were also put on a strict diet. A full cup of tea with our meals was something not to be thought of. We were only allowed enough water for a gargle after exercising. There is none of that torture now. It is not necessary in order to tango through ten rounds with not even a decision at stake."

State Food Commissioner Also Advocates Consideration of Municipal Slaughter Houses.

WRITES TO INDIANA MAYORS

Mayor C. L. Lebout has received a letter from H. E. Barnard, state food and drug commissioner, pointing out the need of an improvement in conditions under which the meat supply of Indiana is slaughtered and advocating the serious consideration of establishing municipal slaughter houses. Copies of the letters were sent to each mayor in the state and also to all physicians.

"We must devise some means by which we can secure for the local consumer the same guaranty of fitness for food that government inspection affords," the letters point out.

The elimination of cattle infected with tuberculosis, plans for abrogating unsanitary conditions in slaughter houses, proper care of the meat after slaughtering and the numerous other details of the subject are treated in the letters.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

TAFFETAS, NET AND LACE COMBINE WELL IN THE MORE DRESSY FROCKS

All sheer materials are favored this season, voile, rice cloth, net and chiffon. At the races recently in Paris, chiffon and lace frocks appeared in numbers; black satin gowns were hung with long tunics of black maline and white taffetas foundations were veiled with frilled and flounced overdresses of fine white net which is being shown in such charming border designs and colorings as well as in plain white.

Rice cloth was used in No. 8339 with bandings of Venice lace and a wide sash of flowered chiffon. It is a dainty frock with a drop-shoulder and a slight panier effect on the skirt. To copy the design for size 36, 6 1/4 yards of 36-inch material is required.

The exquisite fineness of white net over white taffetas may be seen in the second figure illustrated here, 8056; it is a peasant dress with surplice waist, and a two-piece skirt. A quaint pleasing effect is given by the net flounces that trim bodice and skirt; the flounce at the bottom of the skirt brings about the modish flare so much in demand just now.

This costume requires for size 36, about 7 yards of 36-inch material.

No. 8339—sizes 34 to 42.
No. 8056—sizes 34 to 42.

BILLS IN HOUSE MOVE SLOWLY

Calander Wednesday is Fast Becoming Bone of Contention in National House of Representatives.

HAVE MANY FILIBUSTERS

First Perfectly Satisfied Refugee From Mexico is Found by Secretary of State Bryan

BY BURTON K. STANDISH
(Written for United Press.)
Washington, June 10.—Calander Wednesday, a venerable and jealously cherished parliamentary veteran, is becoming a bone of contention in the House of Representatives.

Seven weeks ago the House began the consideration of a voluminous bill providing for the uniform codification of all laws, and after six successive Calander Wednesdays, during which time all manner of filibusters were perpetrated to stay its progress, the astounding discovery was made that only 60 of the 168 pages of the bill had been considered.

Retarding of the measure was partly due to a declaration of war by Representatives Thompson and Wingo of Arkansas, friends of the rural credits measure which was overlooked in the Democratic caucus. They conducted their filibuster just like naughty little boy "getting even" until Floor Leader Underwood scolded them soundly, and they desisted; whereupon everybody on the Democratic side breathed a sigh of relief.

But hardly had the Thompson-Wingo filibuster failed than Representative Mendell of Wyoming leaped into the breach. The members gathered that he was considerably "peevish" because the bill was not moving fast enough, and as soon as the Wyoming member impressed this upon his fellows he preceeded to a little declaration of war all his own.

"If this measure is not considered in a serious manner," he asserted, "I shall insist upon a quorum being present whenever calender Wednesday arrives." Seeing as how most of the Representatives take Calander Wednesday for a sort of Congressional Roman holiday and "journey to the baseball park," this was "some threat."

When it comes to luminosity of neckwear, Judge Adamson, Representative from Georgia and Chairman of the House Interstate Commerce Committee, has old Solomon in all his glory looking like a faded sepia print.

About a fortnight ago the Judge received from Georgia a box containing a dozen or two of these scarfs. From the assortment could be taken every hue of the rainbow, each tint of the well-known spectrum and several others which, until the discovery of ultra-violet and the intro-rod rays of science, were not known to exist at all.

Now when the Judge saunters

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring color, lustre and thickness to hair when faded, streaked or gray.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

TRUTH TRIUMPHS

Rushville Citizens Testify For the Public Benefit

A truthful statement of a Rushville citizen, given in his own words should convince the most skeptical about the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills. If you suffer from backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, urinary disorders or any form of kidney ills, use a tested kidney medicine.

A Rushville citizen tells of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Could you demand more convincing proof of merit?

J. F. Champion, 618 W. Fifth St., Rushville, Ind., says: "Some years ago I suffered a great deal from backache and kidney weakness. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I got a supply from Johnson & Co.'s Drug store. They gave me relief. I still think highly of Doan's Kidney Pills and am glad to confirm what one of my family said about them some years ago."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Champion had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., (Buffalo, N. Y.) (Advertisement.)

through the dim House corridors the bands of tourists get the impression that a torch light procession and a fourth of July set-piece celebration, with a radiance lent by a first cousin of Halley's comet, is visiting the halls of Congress.

The first perfectly satisfied Mexican refugee to arrive here is J.J. Slade of Columbus, Ga., big property holder at Micheacan.

Calling on Secretary Bryan with his friend John Lind, Slade verbally patted the premier on the back, told him the administration Mexican policy was O. K. and almost gave the Secretary apoplexy by failing to ask that the fleet and the army both be sent inland to protect his holdings.

"My property is land—and it is nailed down," he told the secretary, "and I certainly wouldn't want to have a single American boy shot for the sake of my holdings."

"I want to say right here and now that Uncle Sam has treated me mighty fine, and I'm satisfied with him in this Mexican situation."

Secretary of State Bryan has a new pair of glasses.

They go over his ears, and the lenses are only "half-moons," but despite his new acquisition, the premier insists on nervously fumbling his old nose glasses every time he has a group of visitors.

A Great Race.

Two globe trotters met in the smoking room of a hotel. They found that they had each spent a week in China, on the strength of which they proceeded to "weigh up" that country to their mutual admiration and satisfaction.

From that the talk drifted to sporting events witnessed in different parts of the world.

"While I was in Australia," said No. 1, "I saw what I imagined to be the closest race in the world. The winning horse only beat the second by a tongue's length."

No. 2 seemed lost in thought. He gazed abstractedly out of the window. At last he spoke:

"I have seen a closer race than that," he murmured. "I was once in Scotland."—London Answers.

Rammed by a Shark.

The strangest shark story which ever came to the writer's ears was of a shark that charged a steamer. This was in Queen Charlotte's sound, and an account of the incident appeared in a Vancouver paper. The captain of the steamer, which was a small craft of only fifty tons or so, saw the shark on the surface on the port bow and could not resist the temptation of taking a shot at it with his rifle. He hit his mark, whereupon the monster, said to have been fully twenty feet in length, deliberately charged the steamer. The boat quivered from stem to stern, and the captain said afterward that it was like striking a rock. After this display of temper Master Shark had had enough of it and sank out of sight.—T. C. Bridges in Chambers' Journal.

THREE DAINTY BORDERS FOR EMBROIDERING TOWELS

These warm summer afternoons need not be wasted, while one is enjoying the cool breezes on the veranda, if one has a small piece of embroidery to do. A towel, such as these, may be easily worked without much exertion, as the stitches are very simple and easy to do.

The first design, No. 12267, is a flowered scalloped border which is 2 1/4 inches wide. This may be developed in heavily padded solid work and eyelets, in white mercerized cotton. There are three yards in the pattern which may also be used on sheets, pillow cases and bureau-scarfs.

Solid work and eyelets are used for the flowered scalloped border, 12242. This design is two inches wide and there are three yards in the pattern. This makes a lovely trimming for underwear, negligees and dresses as well as towels. A bit of color may be introduced into the shamrock design, No. 12265, which is 2 1/4 inches wide. The leaves may be outlined and the spaces filled in with seed-stitches. There are three yards of this border which may also be used for embroidering underwear, negligees and dresses of lawn, handkerchief linen, batiste or crepe de Chine. The scalloped edge should be developed in white or the color of the material used.

Either fine huckaback or damask should be used for making these towels which may be made in guest size or larger. Guaranteed, hot-iron transfer patterns will be supplied to readers upon receipt of price, 10 cents each.

FINAL SESSION OF CONVENTION

W. K. Stewart of Indianapolis One of Speakers at Close of Convention Conference.

USES MUCH SARCASM IN TALK

Editor of Washington Paper Gives His Reasons For Opposing New Constitution.

(By United Press.)

Bloomington, Ind., June 10.—When the final session of the constitutional convention conference opened here this morning interest had not abated in the question, yet the audience that gathered to hear objections to the convention were relieved by the manner in which W. K. Stewart of Indianapolis, a liberal thinker and strong advocate of the constitutional convention, treated the subject. Stewart spoke in a sarcastic vein. With a serious manner and sarcasm that was biting at times he "denounced" liberal institutions, declared "Taggart is good enough for us," sided with "Joe Cannon, Jim Watson, Penrose and Sullivan," and "defamed" such "yellow journalism as the Chicago Tribune, the Philadelphia North American and the Scripps-McRae league supplies.

"I object to the good old Hoosier commonwealth attempting to better itself by meddling with a constitution under which we have worked out our present beneficent system," said Stewart. "We are living and trying to perform our various functions in an age of fads, as anybody like Joe Cannon or Jim Watson or Penrose or Sullivan or Murphy can easily demonstrate. Government is getting entirely out of its sphere by butting into New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad management, Colorado strikes and what not.

"Little matters of business that no one worried about when Morgan and Hanna were promoting the interests of the plain people are now everybody's business. Only a few years ago we were all happy and telling our young sons how to become captains of industry. Now, forsooth, the old parties, always ready to guarantee big business a proper profit on their investment, are being manhandled by a lot of yellow journals like the Philadelphia North American, the Chicago Tribune, the Scripps-McRae sheets, etc. You cannot with safety send your boy or girl to an American college, or he will come back with fool ideas developed by yellow professorism of such institutions as the University of Wisconsin.

"Church is no place for sensible people in these days of yellow pulpism with its lightly veiled socialistic doctrine. With such an atmosphere of vapors what chance has Indiana to draw of a safe and sane constitution. Leave us alone, that's all we want. Taggart is good enough for us, and life in Uncle Tom's cabin is enough for any man. We know exactly where we stand now and don't have to waste our time fighting things through a wild-eyed, long-haired bunch of legislators from the farms and shops.

"All you have to do if this institution wants additional appropriations, or anybody else wants anything else, is go and ask Tom, and he will invite the crowd over to the Denison and tell you whether he will do it or not. It's a simple, plain system that anybody can see working, and stands for no monkey business.

"Now if we tackle this new constitution idea, we are likely to turn everything upsidedown, make a lot of good fellows go back to work and discourage every politician in Indiana. What was good enough for our fathers should be good enough for us. All this talk about 'votes for women' is enough to make any man sick. Let the women vote by changing our constitution and no man will ever again be able to call his home his own. Then there'll be another lot of cranks that'll interfere with our personal liberty in every known way. There won't be a railroad nor a public service corporation that can run its own business."

The "forbidding shadows of Socialism" was declared to be behind the movement for a constitutional convention by Charles G. Seffrit, Republican editor of Washington, Ind., who addressed the conference on the convention here today. Seffrit is one of the principal opponents of the constitutional convention idea, and was asked for the reason to represent the negative side in the conference, which closes today.

Seffrit said that the issues of equal suffrage and prohibition were "only lures" advance by the socialists to catch the sentimentalists:

"Behind this commotion for the destruction of Indiana's Constitution looms the forbidding shadow of socialism. The question of equal suffrage and prohibition of the liquor traffic are but minor incidents of this canvass of Indiana for permission of the people to make a new Constitution. Solicitation of the favor of citizens who would eradicate the saloons or who would give the right of suffrage to women is a lure displayed by socialism to the sentimentalists."

The sentiment for a new constitution is not wide-spread, said Seffrit, and it does not include the substantial, conservative and thoughtful people of Indiana, he said.

"Beneath the agitation are inauspicious influence. Influences, too, that are menacing, whether they be found among the high-brows who live and dream with their heads in resolute shadows, or with the restless spirits in congested urban precincts, where smoldering embers of envy are fanned into blazing hate by the subtle preachings of demagogues."

Seffrit said that the constitution had served the state well for 63 years, which was "proof that it has the approval of the people." He said that he had been amended twice "which is incontrovertible evidence that it may be altered whenever the people desire a change," without the use of a constitutional convention.

"The people of Indiana should consider carefully whether they want Europe methods applied to Indiana," he said. "Should consider whether they want an extending of official espionage, new swarms of public officers, increase in taxation, more power for municipal corporations to make socialistic experiments, greater authority in the executive head that, local communities may be governed from Indianapolis, or if they want to surrender their right to elect their own judges. If they want these things, they need a new constitution," said Seffrit.

He said the people should not "set the seal of approval on the libel that the state is unprogressive and backward. This is a cruel slander," he said.

"No Indiana does not need a new constitution. The present one is well established. It is competent and comprehensive. It may be old but it is sound. It is not socialistic, but it is safe. I have faith in the discriminating ability of the people to direct this question of a new constitution of its irrelevant and decaying features. They will record an emphatic negative in the referendum vote for a constitutional convention," concluded the Washington editor.

Chicago, June 10.—Suffragists this afternoon believed the general Federation of Women's clubs would allow discussion of the suffrage resolution by delegates. Suffrage resolutions have heretofore been discussed only in committees.

The day was spent in oratory from those who demanded a right to speak on the suffragist resolution. The suffragists declare that tests taken this morning indicate that the federation will allow discussion and this will mean victory for the suffragists.

school has much to do in fitting such men for their places in life.

"We congratulate those of you who have completed the eighth grade. We trust that this is not your last graduation. Your teachers for the coming year might question the statement if I said that your hardest work is now in the past. In one sense that is not true. You will study longer hours, you will think more deeply, you will be more perplexed over future problems than any that you have known in the past.

"But the most distasteful part of your work is in the past. You will feel a deeper interest; you will have a greater thrill; you will grasp the work of the high school better than you have comprehended the work that you were doing in the grades that are past. The more delightful school experiences await you. My hope is that everyone who has completed the eighth grade will if possible, complete the high school course. Then, if possible, complete the course in some good college.

"In the day of your activity, college men are going to be in demand. The man without a college education is going to be discounted for good position. And then, may a kind Providence guide you in getting into a sphere in life, where you can use your strong body, your well trained mind, your well disciplined moral nature, for your own highest happiness, for the welfare of your fellow men, and for His own glory."

County Educational Day Exercises Are Held at Coliseum in City Park This Afternoon.

REV. A. W. JAMIESON SPEAKS

Tells Graduates Most Distasteful School Work is Past, But Greater Problems Will Come

Although the day was hot, many people were attracted to Rushville today for the annual county educational day exercises which were held this afternoon in the coliseum at the city park. The class address was delivered by the Rev. A. W. Jamieson, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, on the subject, "Making Men."

The graduates formed in line at the court house shortly after one o'clock and marched to the coliseum. Wagoner's orchestra furnished the music for the occasion. The Rev. A. D. Batchelor of the St. Paul's M. E. church pronounced the invocation.

One hundred and thirty-five pupils were awarded diplomas which signified they had completed the eight years' course in the Rush county schools. A gold medal was awarded to Zella Hungerford of Orange township for a perfect attendance record. She has never been absent or tardy. Miss Edna Gibson, a pupil at school No. 9 in Rushville township, won the distinction this year of having the highest grade in the county for the year. Her grade was 97.3 per cent. "Every community has its undesirable; any boy can become one if others neglect and he neglects himself," said the Rev. Mr. Jamieson in the course of his address. "Every community has its highly respected and self-respecting men. Any boy is the material out of which a man can become such a man, if he will. A babe in the cradle is not a man; he can be made. The public school does not furnish the entire process for making even a six year old boy and turning out the finished product for American citizenship.

"The home, the companionship, the moral instruction have their important missions to fulfill; but the school is a factor, a large factor, an essential factor in the making of men. There are not many great men. We are told, that some are born great; some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them. All told, the number is not large. But there are multitudes of men who have the elements of greatness in their own sphere. They are men of intelligence; men of happy homes; men of moral character and helpful influence. Every such man has improved his opportunities for an education.

"The glory of young men is their strength. One great need for a successful life is a strong body. Education helps the developing man to know his body and take care of it. For success in life, we need trained minds. Some men succeeded in becoming scholars without schools. Generations ago, men crossed the ocean in frail sail boats. Today, no man would take passage in a sail boat. When he might go in a moving palace of modern construction.

"Today, no man tries to get an education without the school room drill, and school advantages. Not to go to school means to live in ignorance; to make the best of school opportunities means to live in intelligence. The home, the church, the state, call for men who develop the best that there is in them. The Shelbyville City Council and Cement Dealers Here Today.

The members of the Shelbyville city council together with a number of cement dealers were in the city this morning to inspect the concrete streets recently completed. Shelbyville has some paving contracts to let and the council is undetermined as to the kind of material to use. The trip of inspection was made under the auspices of the cement dealers, who are desirous of putting in some cement streets there. The Shelbyville delegation went from here to Connersville to see the concrete streets there.

AUTO COLLIDES WITH MAIL WAGON

Frank Redman's Vehicle is Upset This Morning and He is Thrown Out, But Not Hurt.

JESSE KIRKPATRICK'S AUTO

An automobile driven by Jesse Kirkpatrick, living at the corner of Willow and Ninth streets, collided with a road wagon in which Frank Redman, rural mail carrier on route No. 11, rode, at the corner of Main and Second streets shortly after six-thirty o'clock this morning and upset the wagon. Mr. Redman was thrown out but he was not hurt. Three of the rubber tires rolled off the road wagon when it was upset. Mr. Kirkpatrick was unhurt.

Mr. Redman had just left the post-office and was looking down distributing his mail. He was driving south behind two farm wagons and had pulled out to go around them. Mr. Kirkpatrick was driving north and intended to give the mail wagon plenty of room. The accident was said to be unavoidable by those who witnessed it.

LAST OF WALKER CLAIMS REMOVED

Papers Withdrawn in Which John LeSueur of Jersey Isle Filed in Court Here.

RECEIVER NOT DISMISSED

The last of the claims against A. P. Walker was taken from the docket in the circuit court yesterday afternoon. It was the claim of John LeSueur, a cattle buyer of Jersey Isle. The claim was for 526 pounds and 12 shillings. The court granted permission to withdraw all papers in the case and this dismissed the action. Le Sueur alleged that Walker owed him for some cattle and the receiver refused to grant the claim and it was placed on the court docket to be heard by Judge Megee.

There is only one case on the docket involving Walker and that is the receivership case of Washington Tyler against Walker in which Charles A. Frazee was appointed receiver. It is expected that the receiver will be discharged in a few days and the case dismissed.

A marriage license was issued this afternoon to Frank McColley and Thresa Headlee.

BIG CROWD FOR BIG WEDNESDAY

Many People Come to Rushville to Take Advantage of Bargains Offered by Merchants.

MANY ENJOY THE FREE SHOWS

More Farmers Than Expected For-sake the Fields and Hundreds of Women Come to City.

Rain this afternoon threatened to add a discordant note to Rushville's first Big Wednesday of 1914, but many hundreds of people came to Rushville regardless of the hot sun or the threatening clouds.

Merchants this afternoon reported excellent business due to the first bargain day of the season. Educational day brought many people to the city, but many came solely because of the Big Wednesday bargains, as was attested by the crowds which filled many of the stores this afternoon and took advantage of the free motion picture shows.

After the crowd had gone to the coliseum this afternoon for the educational day program, many people were at all motion picture shows, which were being run free to the public until six o'clock. The free shows were arranged for by the merchants who contributed to make Big Wednesday possible.

The Arlington band was engaged to give a concert this afternoon and tonight. A band stand was erected at the northwest corner of the court house lawn. A much larger crowd was expected for the band concert tonight, if the rain did not interfere.

Several merchants were interviewed this afternoon, and they all agreed that Big Wednesday had contributed much to bring the crowd to the city and that many hundreds of people were taking advantages of the special bargains which practically every merchant offered.

The crowd consisted for the most of women and children, although it was generally conceded that there were more men in Rushville today than it was believed would come. Farmers are very busy with their farm work and it was not anticipated that many of them would leave the fields to come to Rushville when their wives could do the buying.

IF HUERTA FLEES HE WILL BE KILLED

This is Word Refugees From Mexico City Bring to Vera Cruz When They Arrive Today.

THEY BARELY ESCAPE DEATH

(BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD.)
(By U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Vera Cruz, June 10.—Passengers arriving today from Mexico City said that if Huerta should attempt to flee the city it would mean suicide because the Rebels has planted dynamite on every railroad track. They said Huerta told them: "Look out for bombs," when he gave personal friends good-bye. They said that forty miles from the city they were miraculously saved from dynamite bombs planted by the Rebels.

STORM GOES AROUND CITY

Very Light Rain Brings Little Relief From Heat Wave That Has Held County in Grip.

HEAVY RAIN SOUTH OF HERE

Big Display of Lightning and Heavy Claps of Thunder Fail to Bring Desired Results.

A thunder storm this afternoon promised relief from the heat wave that has held Rush county in its grip for four days, but late in the day there had been very little change in the temperature.

The mercury ascended within a degree of the hundred mark during the middle of the day. Early in the afternoon the humidity in the air made it almost intolerable, but about two-thirty o'clock the lightning cooled the air considerably and the mercury dropped to ninety degrees within a half hour.

The thunder storm and rain that was impending, however, went to the south of Rushville and was threatening to retrace its steps and give Rushville a drenching before the day had passed. A heavy rain, and a severe lightning and thunder storm, was reported in the southern part of the county late this afternoon, but there was no damage from electricity so far as could be learned.

After three o'clock the storm was still threatening, but what little rain that had fallen had brought only small relief from the intense heat. The mercury, after dropping to ninety degrees, began to mount again. Local weather prophets were inclined to believe that the rain which passed to the south of Rushville would not return.

Dispatches this afternoon told of lower temperature in the middlewest. A cool breeze brought relief in Chicago and there was a big drop in the temperature in Indianapolis.

NO IMMEDIATE RELIEF IS FELT

Many Deaths and Prostrations in Unprecedented Heat Wave Scorching Middlewest.

ELEVEN DIE IN CHICAGO ALONE

(By United Press.)

Chicago, June 10.—Scorched for the fourth consecutive day the middlewest states today felt no immediate relief from an unprecedented heat wave that has caused more than a score of deaths and many prostrations.

Springfield, Ill., was today designated as the hottest city in the United States. The mercury has reached the 100 mark there. Nashville registered 98, Louisville 96, Chicago 95, St. Louis 98, and Indianapolis 86 at nine o'clock this morning.

Eleven deaths from heat have occurred in Chicago alone. There have been eight deaths in Pittsburg.

COOLING BREEZE.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, June 10.—A cooling breeze coming down from the north brought relief this afternoon and brought the mercury down to 78 degrees.

HAS PRELIMINARY HEARING

Resulted in William Poe Being Bound Over to Circuit Court.

William Poe, who was arrested here last Thursday and returned to Shelbyville where his wife had preferred a charge of non-support, was given a preliminary hearing yesterday in Squire Webb's court in Shelbyville. Poe pleaded not guilty but was found guilty by the court. He was bound over to the circuit court and his bond placed at $200. The evidence showed that he had not offered to support his wife or children since April 11. Poe was unable to give bond and went back to jail to await trial.

HEARING MAY BE HELD IN THIS CITY

Effort Being Made to Have Public Service Commission Come Here For Gas Case.

WAS TO HAVE BEEN TODAY

The hearing of the petitions of the Peoples Natural Gas company and the Central Fuel company asking permission to raise their gas rates, which was to have been today before the public service commission, was postponed at the request of the city. It was pointed out that the commission had not given the people here sufficient time in which to prepare their fight against the proposed raise.

City attorney John H. Kiplinger is making an effort to get the commission to hold the hearing in this city as was done at Evansville. The citizens here are all interested in the question and in order that as many as possible appear before the commission, it was thought best to ask that the hearing be held in Rushville. The commission has not yet decided this question.

Petitions against the proposed increase in rates have been circulated freely among the consumers and many have signed the papers.

CASE OF SMALLPOX FOUND AT MILROY

Peter Poole is Found to be Suffering With Disease, County Health Officer Smith Learns.

NO DANGER OF AN EPIDEMIC

Peter Poole, a well known young man of Milroy, has a well developed case of smallpox, according to the attending physician and county health officer, Dr. Will C. Smith. The case has been reported to Dr. Smith and Poole has been placed under quarantine.

Vrey little is thought of the case in Milroy as very few have been exposed and every precaution has been taken to prevent a spread of the disease. Every one who has been exposed to the disease has been vaccinated. The Poole home is under quarantine. It is not known where he contracted the disease.

ASKS PERKINS TO LEAVE PARTY

In Open Letter to Roosevelt and Others Amos Pinchot Demands Trust Magnate Quit.

IS DETRIMENTAL TO PARTY

Says Perkins Heads Element Which Favors the Protection of Private Monopoly.

(By United Press.)

New York, June 10.—Amos Pinchot, member of the national Progressive executive committee, today made public a four thousand word letter in which he demanded that George W. Perkins, chairman of the committee, withdraw absolutely from direction of the affairs of the committee "for the good of the party."

Pinchot's letter was sent to Senator Dixon and the members of the national Progressive committee, to Col. Roosevelt and to Perkins on May 23. Perkins has not replied.

At his office today it was said he was out of town and could not be reached. At his home it was declared he left early today. The first paragraph of Pinchot's letter read as follows:

"A suggestion exists within the Progressive party which must be terminated before it can command the attention of the voters.

"The situation I refer to is this: an element in our leadership headed by George W. Perkins favors the protection of private monopoly in American industry and since the party's formation active steps have been taken to commit the party to that policy."

VIOLENCE IS FEARED TODAY

Westinghouse Company Places 200 Guards at Works.

(By United Press.)

Pittsburg, Pa., June 10.—Violence was feared at the Westinghouse plant this afternoon following the action of officials in putting to work 200 guards. This was done although the union had waived its demands for recognition. This act probably ended all probability of success.

Business Is As Good As We Make It

The head of a great national industry—a veritable live wire—remarked recently that he could have a panic in his business any time he wanted it.

All he had to do was to let up driving and begin to talk hard times.

But instead of doing this, he increases his advertising when things look squally and drives his salesmen harder.

And good times or bad, there has never been a year that his business has failed to go ahead and yield a handsome profit.

This man incidentally practically does all his advertising in the local newspapers, figuring wisely that by making sales for the distributors of his goods, he is paving the way for his own salesmen to get more orders.

GOVERNMENT TO COUNT ALL BIRDS

This Kind of Census is Latest Idea of Department of Agriculture—to Have Agents

POOR PAY IN CANADIAN WHEAT

For This Reason Many Farmers Who Migrated There are Returning to the United States

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 10.—A bird census of the United States is the latest suggestion from the United States Department of Agriculture. The counting should begin this month and every bird lover throughout the country is invited to assist.

In the announcement the Department says: "The object is to determine how many pairs of birds of each species breed within areas. By comparing these figures with those of subsequent censuses it will be possible to ascertain whether the present state and federal laws are effective and game and insectivorous birds increasing or diminishing in numbers. Voluntary observers are relied upon to furnish most of the desired data to the department."

The first step of the department was to ask 250 of its correspondents to act as census agents in different localities. They will select their trained observers and, following an outline of information furnished by the Department, will take the census.

Correspondents will be asked to select fairly representative territory in their localities and to note, among other things the kinds of and pairs of birds actually nesting within a restricted plot. And the census takers are warned not to include birds which come into that territory simply for breeding purposes.

Each correspondent is asked to go out early in the morning to count the male birds—for that is the hour they do most of their singing. Suffrage is to bear no part in the bird counting, however, for the Department has decided that after migration is over and the birds are settled in their summer quarters "it is safe to consider that each male represents a breeding pair."

Reasons for the return of many American farmers who migrated to Canada, attracted by the big wheat crops possible there, are found in a report of a commission appointed by the province of Saskatchewan. The cost of growing wheat in that province during the last year was found to be 55 cents a bushel, or 62 cents f. o. b. at country points. This leaves a mighty slim margin, according to the Department of Agriculture, for farmers to gain a profit.

The long, rigorous winters have also proven too much for Americans in many instances and numbers are asking for certificates which will

This Kidney Remedy A Great Healer

For a number of years I was troubled with my kidneys, condition so serious that part of the time I was unable to work. Tried several remedies, also different physicians, without relief. A sample of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root was left at my house. I commenced to take it and continued it until I had taken several bottles and am now cured. Am sixty-two years of age and am able to work every day. I attribute my cure to the use of your Swamp-Root.

My wife also was cured by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. Symptoms were very serious, including hemorrhages, great pain and distress. I commenced giving her Swamp-Root and it was just as healing in her case. We can heartily recommend your Swamp-Root to all kidney sufferers.

Very truly yours,

H. C. GRIFFITH,

permit the return to the United States of their household effects.

The cost of producing wheat in Saskatchewan, the Canadian provincial commission found, has increased over 12 per cent since 1909, and the price has decreased, since that time from 81½ cents a bushel to 66½ cents in 1913, leaving the farmer a profit of only 4½ cents a bushel.

Percheron are the favorite breeding horses imported by American breeders, according to recently gathered statistics just made public by the Department of Agriculture. Next in favor for importation are Belgian horses, with Clydesdale "also ran."

In 1913 882 Percheron stallions and 600 mares were imported. Of Belgians, 621 stallions and 302 mares were brought across the water to this country, while only 45 Clydesdale stallions and 29 mares were imported last year, while 128 Shire stallions and 57 Shire mares were brought in. The total importations for the year of high bred horses were 1,733 stallions, including ponies, and 1,264 mares.

"Udo" is the name of a new Japanese vegetable imported by the Department of Agriculture. It is especially adapted to Maryland, where extensive experiments have been made with the vegetable, and all parts of New England as well as Atlantic Coast States as far south as the Carolinas.

A very interesting and valuable booklet, illustrated, on the Angora goat, with hints to raisers or prospective breeders, has recently been issued by the Department of Agriculture.

THREE MILLION ROSES ARE USED

Portland, Oregon, June 10.—It was estimated that more than 3,000,000 cut roses were used in the decorations of the floral parade held here this afternoon in connection with the annual Rose Festival.

The parade consisted of hundreds of the smartest pure bred horses, owned by members of Northwestern City Hunt Clubs, supplemented by nearly 1,000 handomely bedecked motor vehicles, both pleasure and commercial.

Tonight's fire drill and life saving exhibition is to be one of the features of the week. An eight story factory building, saturated with chemicals will be theoretically destroyed and the entire city fire department will be called out to rescue three hundred persons who have volunteered to fill the various floors of the structure to demonstrate the different types of modern fire fighting machinery and life saving apparatus.

ALUM in FOOD

The alum baking powder manufacturers deny with great emphasis that food made with their baking powder contains alum.

Do they not know or are they trying to mislead consumers?

The facts as developed by the most eminent chemists and physiologists prove that their statements are incorrect.

Dr. Mallet, of the University of Virginia, a scientist of the highest reputation, after a series of investigations, reported:

"I purchased in the open market a number of samples of baking powders in which alum is an ingredient; have had bread made with them in the usual way and according to the directions printed on the packages. Experimenting with twelve different powders in some of which the alum alone was used, and in others alum and acid phosphate, I have in every case found aluminum (alum) present in the bread and recoverable therefrom."

Examine the ingredient clause upon the back label of the can and you will learn which are alum powders.

The Difference

Royal Baking Powder is made from pure cream of tartar and contains no alum, lime phosphate or albumen.

An Elixir of Life. "An annuity is the best elixir of life I know of," said the examining physician of an insurance company. "It sometimes seems as if annuitants never die. We have lots on our books who top eighty, ninety and even ninety-five years. I have passed many a sickly and decrepit old fellow as a good annuity risk—the sicker they are, you know, the better risk they make—and the next year he has turned up to collect his annuity rejuvenated, rosy, spry as a boy. The secret? The secret is that financial worry, fear of the poorhouse, ages and kills off more people than all the deadly diseases combined. Release an old man by means of an annuity from all this worry, and he throws off his years and walks erect and happy and fearlessly young."

Shakespeare's Birth. The exact date of Shakespeare's birth is not known, and the accepted date of April 23 is based on circumstantial evidence. There is record evidence that he was baptized on April 26, 1564, but no record evidence of the date of his birth. He died April 23, 1616, and the inscription upon his monument is evidence that he had already begun his fifty-third year, but does not give any birth date. From these data and other such information as they could obtain, antiquaries in the eighteenth century, 100 years after his death, fixed the date of his birth as April 23, 1564, three days before his baptism. Though not proved beyond doubt, that date is universally accepted.—Philadelphia Press.

Amusements

A home talent minstrel show will be given Thursday evening, June 25, at the Coliseum, which will make Al. G. Field take notice. The minstrel is given by the Kappa Alpha Phi fraternity, and assisted by the Psi Iota Xi sorority. Something entirely new has been introduced into the minstrels, and the end men are now done away with. The Cabaret minstrel has been successfully given in other cities and it was at a large expense that the local societies bought the state right to produce it. Forty persons are in the cast and many popular rag time pieces are introduced. The comedians are plentiful and the jokes witty and many consist of local color.

or. Tickets are now on sale at all the drug stores.

The Princess will show the usual three pictures tonight. The first is a Vitagraph comedy "Bunny's Scheme." John Bunny and Flora Finch are featured and it is said to be a very funny picture. The second is an Edison drama "The Mystery of the Laughing Death." Ben Wilson is shown in this one. The last is a drama entitled "The Midnight Call."

The Gem offers a three reel Bison feature "The Lamb, the Woman and the Wolf" for tonight's program. M. J. McQuarrie and Pauline Bush are featured. It is a thrilling western drama and many sensational scenes are shown. An absorbing romance is interwoven in the picture and adds much to the action.

Thick and Thin. "It's a funny thing," remarked the observing man, "that particularly stout and particularly thin people can discover insinuations in regard to their size where absolutely none is meant. Now, tonight in the car there were two good examples of this within a few minutes of each other. One was a little thread of a woman who glanced contemptuously at two well meaning persons who moved apart and made a space between them which looked wide enough for her to seat herself with comparative comfort. "Thank you," she snapped, "but I prefer to stand rather than sit where there is scarcely room for a small child."

"We had not proceeded far when an extremely stout woman entered the car. She was carrying two huge bundles and looked tired. Three men in a row sprang to their feet as she began to lurch about as the car started. She administered a savage glance at them and said, quite audibly: "Well, I never! I guess if it's got to the point where I take up three seats I'd better stand up awhile!"—Buffalo Express.

Earned It. A stranger was hunting quail in the mountains of Georgia, where by reason of the wild peas they are very numerous. One day his dog flushed a flock of wild turkeys to the rage of a native youth who had been creeping toward them. The boy promptly brought his old fashioned six foot rifle to his shoulder, and the bullet cut up the dirt under the dog's feet. The next instant the boy disappeared in the brush. Later in the day the hunter came across a mountain cabin and saw the same boy in the yard with a man whom he took to be his father. He hailed the man and angrily gave an account of the morning's incident. "He wasn't forty yards away when he shot at my dog. I think he should have a good thrashing," he continued. "Misses a dawg at forty yards?" the mountaineer asked in astonishment. "Yo' needn't worry 'bout that lickin', stranger; he sho' will git one all right!"—Argonaut.

The Footpath to Peace. To be glad of life because it gives you the chance to love and to work and to play, to be satisfied with your possessions, but not contented with yourself until you have made the best of them; to despise nothing in the world except falsehood and meanness, to fear nothing except cowardice, to covet nothing that is your neighbor's except his kindness of heart and gentleness of manners and to spend as much time as you can, with body and with spirit, in God's out of doors—these are little guideposts on the footpath to peace.—Henry van Dyke.

Didn't Want to Learn. "I do not love you," said the young woman, who knew her own mind. "But," persisted the wrong man, "couldn't you learn to love me?" "No," she replied. "I have learned a good many difficult things, but they have always been things that I wanted to learn."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Complicated Courtesies. "I tried to apologize to my wife," said Mr. Meekton, "but it was awfully confusing."

"Why?" "Every time I tried to say anything she insisted on saluting back, word for word."—Washington Star.

Public Playgrounds

It will be impossible for Rushville to withstand a second agitation for a public playground. Rushville will have to bow to the inevitable. The women of Rushville generally get what they want—and it appears that they want a public playground. The sentiment among women whose children would be benefited by such an institution has been canvassed by persons interested and they are unanimous in favor of the plan.

A meeting of women will be held in the library in the court house next Monday afternoon and the women of the city, regardless of whether they are directly interested, are invited to attend. From the interest that has already been shown, there will be a crowd of women who will crystallize some sort of a method to get what they want.

The city park offers an ideal location for playgrounds. The advantage of a public playground are too well known and have been too often presented in these columns to argue them further. It is sufficient to note that the women of the city favor the project and will see it through to the end.

Other cities have worked out public playground plans and have always found them most satisfactory. There is a great demand right now in Lebanon for public playgrounds and it appears that the community will meet it. Seymour has plans well under way to establish a playground in the city park there, Seymour, as Rushville, has a city park that is lying idle. The city council will spent a considerable sum in improving it this summer and the improvements will include a playground.

In Lebanon the boys have taken the matter of agitating the playground question into their own hands. A number of the kids carrying large banners with inscriptions some of which read "We want a playground," "Lebanon UP to date!" "Where's the kids' playgrounds?" and the like paraded the city streets.

The parade was merely to get the organization of the boys before the public. The boys have banded together and while their organization is not complete, it will be perfected in the near future. Its purpose is to agitate the playground question and to get every business man, woman and members of the city council behind the movement. Several names have been suggested for the new organization, but under what name the boys will go has not been determined.

One of the business men said, that he was a hearty supporter of the movement mainly because the playgrounds would keep the young boys off the city streets. "In fact," he said, "I have had parents come to me and offer me the services of their boys free if I would give them employment in my store, and in this manner keep them off the city streets."

The organization will petition the city council and intends to secure signers to a petition from the Lebanon residents.

Those who have seen fit to stay with the Republican party and those who have seen fit to return to it will undoubtedly disagree with that eminent statesman, ex-Senator Albert Jeremiah Beveridge, who said in the course of an address at Bloomington yesterday: "Last fall we got most of the best half of the Republican party and some of the best half of the Democratic party and in the coming campaign we are going to get all of the best half of the Republican party and most of the best half of the Democratic party."

Democrats and Republicans alike may now make a little mental note

that they are the riff raff, in the opinion of Mr. Beveridge, which doesn't go very far in Indiana. The maxim, "A prophet is without honor in his own country," is a good rule when it fits.

"Most of these fellows who are riding around here in automobiles haven't got a dollar," we heard a man remark on the street corner yesterday. Now, for our own part, we haven't that sour grapes feeling. We've always felt that when they began selling them on the installment plan, we, with less than a dollar less than nothing, would get one.

"Automobiles," says Doc McVey, of Coons Corner, "are bound to go through the same process as bicycles. I remember when folks down our way used to mortgage their place to buy a high wheeler. I turned green with envy when one of our neighbor boy's pa bought him one. It was green and trimmed in red. I worked all the next summer and saved my Sunday excursion money to get a wheel. When I did get one, I was just like these people that own autos now—I couldn't buy graphite for the chain and pay for punctures. But, sure as you're born, automobiles will be sellin' a dollar down and a dollar a week before you know. The fellows who will mortgage their property to get a little joy riding are going to run out some day and then Henry Ford whose payin' five a day for common labor, and some more of these manufacturers, will have to sell on the installment plan."

What has become of the old-fashioned woman who couldn't go to the movies because of the baby?

Do not lie children, or, if you must lie, don't waste your talent. Specialize, and you may get to be a corporation lawyer.

Our friends, the enemy, say that the recent Democratic county convention was a Taggart convention, and that if it was, "give us a little more of the same." Honest confession, you know, kid is mighty good for the soul. And it is open to argument, anyway whether a Democrat will ever get to heaven.

A Night in Kokomo

Bub Geraghty and Louis Hiner, better known to the North Main street campers as "Spider," having an unquenchable desire (and a substantial bank account (to see a ball game, interurbaned most of the way to Detroit to see the Tigers and Athletics play. But, sad to chronicle, they went by the way of Kokomo. On the return trip, they arrived in Kokomo about 3 p. m. before the moon had gone down. Having wasted most of their herebefore mentioned bank account in riotous living, they did not feel like letting loose of a slick dollar for a bed, so they did like any other Hoosier would have done, looked up the court house and sat down on the steps. There strolled by at 4 p. m. on his only round of the night a starlight cop. He wanted to know what a couple of bums were doing at that hour. Under his breath he wondered how they ever happened to come to Kokomo. "Spider" Hiner, regaining his tongue power gradually, explained. Rushville, well, well! Why that cop was born in Rushville. His name is Joe Amos. We're strong for Joe because he came from Rushville, but the place he ended up in! (Business of holding your nose.)

No wonder big Jim Watson grunts in shuddering surprise, And Thomas Riley Marshall says: "Can I believe my eyes?"

No wonder A. J. Beveridge is reach-

I've heard of teaching lunks to swim, of teaching dogs to bark, Of giving singing lessons to the joyous meadow lark, Of teaching gammen how to shoot and Scotchmen how to save, Of teaching crocodiles to bite and maniacs to rave. CONFERENCE OPENS FORMALLY TONIGHT

Twelfth Biennial Meeting of Women's Clubs Scheduled for Start at Chicago.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, June 19.—With Miss Jane Adams, noted social worker, speaking on "Women's Clubs and Public Policies," the twelfth biennial conference of the Federation of Women's Clubs, was to be started formally tonight. Most of today was absorbed in gathering up the loose ends of the arrangements for the Federation's sessions, which really get down to business tomorrow.

Shepard Barnum of Alhambra, Cal., Vocational training, social hygiene, political science and peace also will be discussed. MILLER SIGNS TO PLAY HERE

Will Alternate Behind Bat With Mattern and Play in Outfield—
Maroons Here Sunday.

INFIELD IS ALSO CHANGED

Manager Fisher is on Trial of Laddy
Link and Makes Him a Good Proposition.

Manager Fisher, of the Arcadians has about decided on the changes to be made in the Rushville team for the game Sunday, when the fast Cincinnati Maroons come here for a game. Carl Mattern, who has been doing the catching for the Rushville team the past two seasons will be retained.

The catching department will be strengthened by the addition of Carl Miller, formerly of the Indianapolis Reserves. Miller will work in the outfield and relieve Mattern anytime he goes bad. Manager Fisher is confident that this should prove an improvement in the team. Mattern is well liked here and is a good catcher. The only trouble with Mattern is that he has one bad knee and is liable to be put out of the game anytime. Miller is said to be a slugger and this if nothing else should help the team.

In the game Sunday with the Maroons Bridges will play first base. Quieser, second, Spellman short and Johannes third. Quieser is an infielder and the fans liked his work last Sunday. He can also hit the ball and Manager Fisher believes the Arcadians look the best they have this year.

With Miller, Tompkins and Pierce in the outfield and the infield strengthened Manager Fisher can see no reason why the team should not win games. The pitching department is still causing him a little trouble. He has made Laddy Link a good offer and it is believed that he will accept. If Link comes to terms with the local management he will pitch the game Sunday. The fans were naturally sure over the result of Sunday's game but Fisher is determined to make amends and will do everything he can to give them a winner. He expected to hear definitely regarding Link by tonight.

The playlet, "Joshua and His Friends," was immensely appreciated. Rex Eubanks read an essay on "Rushville" which was complimented.

McFarland Only Equal of Old Timers, Says Frank Erne.

PUBLIC IS UNAPPRECIATIVE.

Fight Fans Think Scrapper Is Stalling When He Uses His Brains—Short, No Decision Bouts to Blame For Decadence of the Game, Says, Former Champion.

When Frank Erne was champion lightweight he was known as the most brassy gloveman of his time, and Erne flourished when great lightweights were plentiful. Therefore, when he speaks of boxing, what he says has weight and is decidedly interesting as well. Erne was discussing the Gibbons-Howard bout and incidentally commented on the boxing situation in general.

"I see that they said Gibbons was stalling," remarked Erne. "It didn't appear that way to me. Gibbons is a student of boxing. He is no wild slugger. I think that those who criticized his tactics were decidedly wrong. He merely used good generalship in changing the pace from time to time. But generalship is no longer understood, it seems to me."

"It is probably because of that fact that there are few good boxers at present. When one of them does something really clever it is usually misunderstood. Just as Gibbons was misunderstood when he tried to make Howard open up instead of attempting to beat him down by main strength."

"How does Gibbons compare with the middleweights of your time?"

"Well, he's a good man, a very good man, but I wouldn't say that he could have held his own with Tommy Ryan and Kid McCoy. They were more seasoned. They had too much experience. "I'll tell you why the old timers were better than the present set. In our time we fought twenty and twenty-five rounds, and you have to be a general to box over ten. We used to think nothing of the first ten. It was along about the fifteenth that the strain began to tell. Then headwork counted and the man with brains came to the front."

"You don't have to think to box ten rounds. We would have thought that a joke. But twenty-five is a different thing. The last five rounds were torture. The mental strain was terrific as well as the muscular effort. When you are tired and exhausted it is much harder, as well as more necessary, to think and plan. That's why the long fights made good generals of us."

"Packy McFarland is the peer of all boxers in the ring today, principally because he understands feinting. His feinting is remarkable. Feinting is the real art of boxing. Why, in our day we never took an opening that was given us. We thought it a trap. We only took advantage of the openings that we made for ourselves by our feinting. There were real bitters in those days, and one mistake was usually fatal."

"Yes, boxing was decidedly different in those days. For one thing, there was more at stake. As a rule the purse was cut two-thirds to the winner and one-third to the loser, and that made the strain much greater."

"Another difference was the way we trained. Some of the lightweights of my time were almost as big as the middleweights of today, yet they made the weight by a long course of special preparation. For instance, weeks before a bout we would go out into the country where we had plenty of fresh air. Every morning we would do ten or twelve miles on the road, and that brought down the weight. We were also put on a strict diet. A full cup of tea with our meals was something not to be thought of. We were only allowed enough water for a gargle after exercising. There is none of that torture now. It is not necessary in order to tango through ten rounds with not even a decision at stake."

State Food Commissioner Also Ad-

WRITES TO INDIANA MAYORS

Mayor C. L. Bebout has received a letter from H. E. Barnard, state food and drug commissioner, pointing out the need of an improvement in conditions under which the meat supply of Indiana is slaughtered and advocating the serious consideration of establishing municipal slaughter houses. Copies of the letters were sent to each mayor in the state and also to all physicians.

"We must devise some means by which we can secure for the local consumer the same guaranty of fitness for food that government inspection affords," the letters point out.

The elimination of cattle infected with tuberculosis, plans for abrogating unsanitary conditions in slaughter houses, proper care of the meat after slaughtering and the numerous other details of the subject are treated in the letters.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

TAFFETAS, NET AND LACE COMBINE WELL IN THE MORE DRESSY FROCKS

All sheer materials are favored this season, voile, rice cloth, net and chiffon. At the races recently in Paris, chiffon and lace frocks appeared in numbers; black satin gowns were hung with long tulle and white tulle frocks with foundations were veiled with frilled and flounced overdresses of fine white net which is being shown in such charming border designs and colorings as well as in plain white.

Rice cloth was used in No. 8339 with handings of Venice lace and a wide cash of flowered chiffon. It is a dainty frock with a drop-shoulder and a slight pannier effect on the skirt. To copy the design for size 36, 6 3/4 yards of 36-inch material is required.

The exquisite fineness of white net over white tulle may be seen in the second figure illustrated here, 8056; it is a peasant dress with surplice waist, and a two-piece skirt. A quaint pleasing effect is given by the net flounces that trim bodice and skirt; the flounce at the bottom of the skirt brings about the modish flare so much in demand just now.

This costume requires for size 36, about 7 yards of 36-inch material.

BILLS IN HOUSE MOVE SLOWLY

Calander Wednesday is Fast Becoming Bone of Contention in National House of Representatives.

HAVE MANY FILIBUSTERS

First Perfectly Satisfied Refugee From Mexico is Found by Secretary of State Bryan

BY BURTON K. STANDISH
(Written for United Press.)
Washington, June 10.—Calander Wednesday, a venerable and jealously cherished parliamentary veteran, is becoming a bone of contention in the House of Representatives.

Seven weeks ago the House began the consideration of a voluminous bill providing for the uniform codification of all laws, and after six successive Calander Wednesdays, during which time all manner of filibusters were perpetrated to stay its progress, the astounding discovery was made that only 60 of the 168 pages of the bill had been considered.

Retarding of the measure was partly due to a declaration of war by Representatives Thompson and Wingo of Arkansas, friends of the rural credit measure which was overlooked in the Democratic caucus. They conducted their filibuster just like naughty little boy "getting even" until Floor Leader Underwood scolded them soundly, and they desisted; whereupon everybody on the Democratic side breathed a sigh of relief.

But hardly had the Thompson-Wingo filibuster failed than Representative Mendell of Wyoming leaped into the breach. The members gathered that he was considerably "peevish" because the bill was not moving fast enough, and as soon as the Wyoming member impressed this upon his fellows he proceeded to a little declaration of war all his own.

"If this measure is not considered in a serious manner," he asserted, "I shall insist upon a quorum being present whenever Calander Wednesday arrives." Seeing as how most of the Representatives take Calander Wednesday for a sort of Congressional Roman holiday and "journey to the baseball park," this was "some threat."

When it comes to luminosity of neckwear, Judge Adamson, Representative from Georgia and Chairman of the House Interstate Commerce Committee, has old Solomon in all his glory looking like a faded sepia print.

About a fortnight ago the Judge received from Georgia a box containing a dozen or two of these scarfs. From the assortment could be taken every hue of the rainbow, each tint of the well-known spectrum and several others which, until the discovery of ultra-violet and the infra-red rays of science, were not known to exist at all.

Now when the Judge saunters

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring color, lustre and thickness to hair when faded, streaked or gray.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

TRUTH TRIUMPHS

Rushville Citizens Testify For the Public Benefit

A faithful statement of a Rushville citizen, given in his own words should convince the most skeptical about the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills. If you suffer from backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, urinary disorders or any form of kidney ills, use a tested kidney medicine.

A Rushville citizen tells of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Could you demand more convincing proof of merit?

J. F. Champion, 618 W. Fifth St., Rushville, Ind., says: "Some years ago I suffered a great deal from backache and kidney weakness. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I got a supply from Johnson & Co.'s Drug store. They gave me relief. I still think highly of Doan's Kidney Pills and am glad to confirm what one of my family said about them some years ago."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Champion had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. (Advertisement.)

through the dim House corridors the bands of tourists get the impression that a torch light procession and a fourth of July set-piece celebration, with a radiance lent by a first cousin of Halley's comet, is visiting the halls of Congress.

The first perfectly satisfied Mexican refugee to arrive here is J.J. Slade of Columbus, Ga., big property holder at Michoacan.

Calling on Secretary Bryan with his friend John Lind, Slade verbally patted the premier on the back, told him the administration Mexican policy was O. K. and almost gave the Secretary apoplexy by failing to ask that the fleet and the army both be sent inland to protect his holdings.

"My property is land—and it is nailed down," he told the secretary, "and I certainly wouldn't want to have a single American boy shot for the sake of my holdings."

"I want to say right here and now that Uncle Sam has treated me mighty fine, and I'm satisfied with him in this Mexican situation."

Secretary of State Bryan has a new pair of glasses.

They go over his ears, and the lenses are only "half-moons," but despite his new acquisition, the premier insists on nervously fumbling his old nose glasses every time he has a group of visitors.

A Great Race.

Two globe trotters met in the smoking room of a hotel. They found that they had each spent a week in China, on the strength of which they proceeded to "weigh up" that country to their mutual admiration and satisfaction.

From that the talk drifted to sporting events witnessed in different parts of the world.

"While I was in Australia," said No. 1, "I saw what I imagined to be the closest race in the world. The winning horse only beat the second by a tongue's length."

No. 2 seemed lost in thought. He gazed abstractedly out of the window. At last he spoke:

"I have seen a closer race than that," he murmured. "I was once in Scotland."—London Answers.

Rammed by a Shark.

The strangest shark story which ever came to the writer's ears was of a shark that charged a steamer. This was in Queen Charlotte's sound, and an account of the incident appeared in a Vancouver paper. The captain of the steamer, which was a small craft of only fifty tons or so, saw the shark on the surface on the port bow and could not resist the temptation of taking a shot at it with his rifle. He hit his mark, whereupon the monster, said to have been fully twenty feet in length, deliberately charged the steamer. The boat quivered from stem to stern, and the captain said afterward that it was like striking a rock. After this display of temper Master Shark had had enough of it and sank out of sight.—T. C. Bridges in Chambers' Journal.

NEEDLEWORK

THREE DAINY BORDERS FOR EMBROIDERING TOWELS

12267-12242-12265

These warm summer afternoons need not be wasted, while one is enjoying the cool breezes on the veranda, if one has a small piece of embroidery to do. A towel, such as these, may be easily worked without much exertion, as the stitches are very simple and easy to do.

The first design, No. 12267, is a flowered scalloped border which is 2 1/2 inches wide. This may be developed in heavily padded solid work and eyelets, in white mercerized cotton. There are three yards in the pattern which may also be used on sheets, pillow cases and bureau-scarfs.

Solid work and eyelets also are used for the flowered scalloped border, 12242. This design is two inches wide and there are three yards in the pattern. This makes a lovely trimming for underwear, negligees and dresses as well as towels. A bit of color may be introduced into the shamrock design, No. 12265, which is 2 1/2 inches wide. The leaves may be outlined and the spaces filled in with seed-stitches. There are three yards of this border which may also be used for embroidering underwear, negligees and dresses of lawn, handkerchief linen, batiste or crepe de Chine. The scalloped edge should be developed in white or the color of the material used.

Either fine buckaback or damask should be used for making these towels which may be made in guest size or larger. Guaranteed, hot-iron transfer patterns will be supplied to readers upon receipt of price, 10 cents each.

FINAL SESSION OF CONVENTION

W. K. Stewart of Indianapolis One of Speakers at Close of Convention Conference.

USES MUCH SARCAISM IN TALK

Editor of Washington Paper Gives His Reasons For Opposing New Constitution.

(By United Press.)

Bloomington, Ind., June 10.—When the final session of the constitutional convention conference opened here this morning interest had not abated in the question, yet the audience that gathered to hear objections to the convention were relieved by the manner in which W. K. Stewart of Indianapolis, a liberal thinker and strong advocate of the constitutional convention, treated the subject. Stewart spoke in a sarcastic vein. With a serious manner and sarcasm that was biting at times he "denounced" liberal institutions, declared "Taggart is good enough for us," sided with "Joe Cannon, Jim Watson, Penrose and Sullivan," and "defamed" such "yellow journalism as the Chicago Tribune, the Philadelphia North American and the Scripps-McRae league supplies.

"I object to the good old Hoosier commonwealth attempting to better itself by meddling with a constitution under which we have worked out our present beneficent system," said Stewart. "We are living and trying to perform our various functions in an age of fads, as anybody like Joe Cannon or Jim Watson or Penrose or Sullivan or Murphy can easily demonstrate. Government is getting entirely out of its sphere by butting into New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad management, Colorado strikes and what not.

"Little matters of business that no one worried about when Morgan and Hanna were promoting the interests of the plain people are now everybody's business. Only a few years ago we were all happy and telling our young sons how to become captains of industry. Now, forsooth, the old parties, always ready to guarantee big business a proper profit on their investment, are being manhandled by a lot of yellow journals like the Philadelphia North American, the Chicago Tribune, the Scripps-McRae sheets, etc. You cannot with safety send your boy or girl to an American college, or he will come back with fool ideas developed by yellow professorism of such institutions as the University of Wisconsin.

"Church is no place for sensible people in these days of yellow pulpism with its lightly veiled socialistic doctrine. With such an atmosphere of vaporings what chance has Indiana to draw of a safe and sane constitution. Leave us alone, that's all we want. Taggart is good enough for us, and life in Uncle Tom's cabin is enough for any man. We know exactly where we stand now and don't have to waste our time fighting things through a wild-eyed, long-haired bunch of legislators from the farms and shops.

"All you have to do if this institution wants additional appropriations, or anybody else wants anything else, is go and ask Tom, and he will invite the crowd over to the Denison and tell you whether he will do it or not. It's a simple, plain system that anybody can see working, and stands for no monkey business.

"Now if we tackle this new constitution idea, we are likely to turn everything upsidedown, make a lot of good fellows go back to work and discourage every politician in Indiana. What was good enough for our fathers should be good enough for us. All this talk about 'votes for women' is enough to make any man sick. Let the women vote by changing our constitution and no man will ever again be able to call his home his own. Then there'll be another lot of cranks that'll interfere with our personal liberty in every known way. There won't be a railroad nor a public service corporation that can run its own business."

The "forbidding shadows of Socialism" was declared to be behind the movement for a constitutional convention by Charles G. Seffrit, Republican editor of Washington, Ind., who addressed the conference on the convention here today. Seffrit is one of the principal opponents of the constitutional convention idea, and was asked for the reason to represent the negative side in the conference, which closes today.

Seffrit said that the issues of equal suffrage and prohibition were "only lures" advanced by the socialists to catch the sentimentalists.

"Behind this commotion for the destruction of Indiana's Constitution looms the forbidding shadow of socialism. The question of equal suffrage and prohibition of the liquor traffic are but minor incidents of this canvass of Indiana for permission of the people to make a new Constitution. Solicitation of the favor of citizens who would eradicate the saloons or who would give the right of suffrage to women is a lure displayed by socialism to the sentimentalists."

The sentiment for a new constitution is not wide-spread, said Seffrit, and it does not include the substantial, conservative and thoughtful people of Indiana, he said.

"Beneath the agitation are inauspicious influence. Influences, too, that are menacing, whether they be found among the high-brows who live and dream with their heads in resolute shadows, or with the restless spirits in congested urban precincts, where smoldering embers of envy are fanned into blazing hate by the subtle preachings of demagogues."

Seffrit said that the constitution had served the state well for 63 years, which was "proof that it has the approval of the people." He said that he had been amended twice "which is uncontrovertible evidence that it may be altered whenever the people desire a change," without the use of a constitutional convention.

"The people of Indiana should consider carefully whether they want Europe methods applied to Indiana," he said. "Should consider whether they want an extending of official espionage, new swarms of public officers, increase in taxation, more power for municipal corporations to make socialistic experiments, greater authority in the executive head that, local communities may be governed from Indianapolis, or if they want to surrender their right to elect their own judges. If they want these things, they need a new constitution," said Seffrit.

He said the people should not "set the seal of approval on the libel that the state is unprogressive and backward. This is a cruel slander," he said.

"No Indiana does not need a new constitution. The present one is well established. It is competent and comprehensive. It may be old but it is sound. I have faith in the discriminating ability of the people to direct this question of a new constitution of its irrelevant and decaying features. They will record an emphatic negative in the referendum vote for a constitutional convention," concluded the Washington editor.

school has much to do in fitting such men for their places in life.

"We congratulate those of you who have completed the eighth grade. We trust that this is not your last graduation. Your teachers for the coming year might question the statement if I said that your hardest work is now in the past. In one sense that is not true. You will study longer hours, you will think more deeply, you will be more perplexed over future problems than any that you have known in the past.

"But the most distasteful part of your work is in the past. You will feel a deeper interest; you will have a greater thrill; you will grasp the work of the high school better than you have comprehended the work that you were doing in the grades that are past. The more delightful school experiences await you. My hope is that everyone who has completed the eighth grade will if possible, complete the high school course. Then, if possible, complete the course in some good college.

"In the day of your activity, college men are going to be in demand. The man without a college education is going to be discounted for good position. And then, may a kind Providence guide you in getting into a sphere in life, where you can use your strong body, your well trained mind, your well disciplined moral nature, for your own highest happiness, for the welfare of your fellow men, and for His own glory."
